TOWN MEETING NEXT MONTH

Sale of Town Farm Land and Extension of Sewerage System in Shawsheen to be Considered at Special Meeting Called on November First.

A warrant has been issued for a special town meeting to be held at the town house on Tuesday, November 1, at eight o'clock for the purpose of considering important matters in connection with the development of Shawsheen village, and to make provisions for the election of town officers on one day, with the transaction of other business at a later date.

The first article to be considered will deal with a proposal to be submitted by William M. Wood for the purchase of the remainder of the Town Farm property. Mr. Wood was the recent purchaser of thirteen and one half acres of town land near the corner of Haverhill street and Burnham road and has already begun operations for its development.

Provisions for caring for the sewerage on Lowell street below Canterbury street will be considered under article two which is inserted on the petition of the Board of Health. An appropriation of $5000 is called for and betterments will be assessed upon the estates benefited by the extension. The distance from Canterbury street to Shawsheen square is about 2000 feet. It is understood that a number of new houses will shortly be built on the south side of Lowell street which will increase the need of a sewerage system in this district. Sewer pipes have already been laid on Canterbury street and the proposed extension from the main trunk line on Haverhill street up Lowell street to Canterbury street will provide the necessary outlet.

The purpose of article three is to make provision for the election of town officers on one day and the transaction of

TRUCK TIPPED OVER

Four Local Young Men Escape Serious Injury When Touring Car and Truck Collide.

Four Andover young men, Roderick Coleman, John Carse, Howard Watson and Joseph Watson, miraculously escaped serious injury in an accident at 7.30 this morning, when a Ford truck in which they were riding, was struck and tipped over at the corner of Main and Chestnut street.

The truck, which was driven by Howard Watson, was coming down Main street towards the square at a fair rate of speed, when an Overland touring car, owned and driven by Alonzo Hawksworth of 98 Woodstock Road, West Somerville, came out of Chestnut from the direction of Central street. The driver was evidently paying no attention to the road and struck the Watson truck in the left rear wheel, turning it half way round and tipping it over. The occupants of the Ford were thrown to the street but all luckily landed clear of the machine. Coleman, who was riding on the right running board of the truck, was on the bottom of the pile and received injuries to the knee and bruises about the face and hands. John Carse escaped without any serious injury but both Watson boys were cut by the glass of the windshield about the face and hands.

The Overland car was only slightly damaged but the Ford was badly wrecked. The smash broke several spokes in the rear wheel, broke the glass

Phillips Brooks Chapter Presents Program at Christ Church Parish House Wednesday.

The Phillips Brooks chapter of X. B. K. presented an excellent program at an entertainment given Wednesday evening in the Parish house of Christ church. Although there was a large advance sale of tickets, there was a regrettably small audience due to other attractions.

The program included a piano solo by Miss Phyllis Yates, a reading by Douglas Crawford, and vocal solos by Miss Virginia MacKnight and Alfred Robb who responded to numerous encores. Miss Ethel Humphreys was accompanist for the soloists.

A trio of mandolin players from Phillips academy, Donald Spencer, J. C. Johnson, and Thurlow Davidson rendered several selections and Mr. Spencer also played a mandolin solo.

Stewart Henry as Professor Incognito assisted by Edward Renouf, delighted the spectators with his skilful exhibition of sleight of hand. The disappearing and dyeing of handkerchiefs, the making of a magic cake and the answering of questions by the rapping of a magic rod were all accomplished with professional ease.

The program was as follows: Following the entertainment dancing was enjoyed to music furnished by the Andover-Lawrence orchestra.

The successful entertainment was in charge of Arthur Swenson, James Schofield and Fred Cole.

The program:

Piano Solo Phyllis Yates

Song Alfred Robb

Magician Prof. Incognito and Assistant Miss Virginia MacKnight

Song Young men from Phillips Academy

Mandolin Trio Donald Spencer

Mandolin Solo Miss McKnight

Song Douglas Crawford

"The Old Nest"

While in New York not long ago, a resident of Andover viewed a really great film at one of the large theatres of the metropolis.

It was the kind of a picture that is real home stuff; the kind of a screen story that appealed to all that is dearest and most tender and the desired effects were accomplished without resorting to usual theatrical methods. It breathed the love of mother whose limitless faith and enduring love have been the inspiration of great men and the saving power for many an erring son.

When Goldwyn created this masterpiece of Rupert Hughes, a monument was given to the world of mothers that will not soon be forgotten.

Everyone who has looked upon this portrayal of domestic life has been strangely moved. One finds one's self smiling and then the next upon the cheek is a tear.

This fine production comes to our Colonial theatre on next Monday and Tuesday—24-25, and the Committee on the Thursday Motion Pictures heartily recommends it to the public.

In the October 13th number of "Commerce and Finance" we find the following on "Agriculture in New England" inspired by the Andover Grange Fair and Field Day and presumably written by Theodore H. Price who seems to be laboring under the impression that the affair took place in North Andover.

"New England is not generally thought of as an agricultural section and it may therefore surprise most people to learn that according to the census of 1920 there are 32,001 farms in Massachusetts and 57,739 persons engaged in agriculture, forestry and animal husbandry. These facts were brought to our attention at a meeting of the North Andover (Mass.) Grange which we attended last week. It was a sort of 'harvest home' held on the farm which the American Woolen Co. maintains to provide milk and fresh vegetables for the babies and invalids among its employees. 'The New England farmer and Mrs. Farmer were there in all their glory and the pumpkins, squashes, potatoes, and other farm products that were on exhibition surpassed anything of the kind we have seen in the West or South.

"As to the cattle, hogs and poultry—well, we are rather ignorant of live stock and chickens, but Ohio and Minnesota had better look to their laurels. From A. W. Gilbert, Commissioner of Agriculture for the State of Massachusetts, we learned that cranberries were being shipped by the train load out of New England and that from its production of potatoes, strawberries and pumpkins the state reaped a surprisingly large revenue. Aroostook County, Maine, which is said to be the best potato garden in the world, will have a crop of about 22,000,000 bushels to market this fall and winter at fairly good prices. Considerable quantities of these potatoes are sold in the South for seed.

"It may well be that in New England we shall see the first of the 'back to the farm movement' that many believe is so essential to an evenly balanced prosperity in the United States, for the country is so densely populated and the towns are so close together that it is practicable for the farm laborer to enjoy the advantages of urban life without neglecting his agricultural duties. This is the way the problem will be solved if it ever is solved.

"Mr. William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Co., was the host of the occasion. He is a good deal of a farmer himself and has built the model village of 'Shawsheen' to prove that life in the country can be made more attractive than existence in the city.

"He lives in Shawsheen himself and has provided his fellow townfolk with all the traditional delights of the country, including even a 'swimming hole' for the boys and another for the girls. In his address of welcome to the farmers of the North Andover Grange, Mr. Wood called attention to the interdependence of agriculture and the manufacturing industry and reassured his audience by saying that he could 'see nothing in the woolen industry to warrant a reduction of wages.' As the company of which Mr. Wood is the head employs nearly 30,000 persons and sets the pace for its competitors this announcement is justly regarded as significant and important.

"We advise those city dwellers who want to renew their optimism and faith in the future to attend a gathering of New England farmers whenever they have the opportunity. They will get a whiff of Americanism that will carry them back to the glorious days of Oliver Wendell Holmes and Nathaniel Hawthorne."

In the very general observance of "no-accident" week public school teachers nobly did their part to impress upon those under their care the significance of the seven days sacred to "Safety First." Many helpful suggestions were impressed upon them no doubt, but either some of the teachers did not quite "get the idea across" or the pupils were sadly lacking in the power of expressing themselves by means of the written word.

Compositions on no-accident week written in the public schools of a town which shall be nameless brought forth these surprising statements, selected from the efforts of many different pupils.

"There is many accidents caused by carelessness of children."

"Do not leave the motor around the corner."

"Keep to left when walking. At night have a tail light."

"Advold accident is to stop look and listen."

"This week specialty we avoid all accident as possible at the Blank school."

"If you have a bicycle don't be out at night of less you have a head. And a tail light and some kind of a horn."

"Be careful of children on a high storey house."

"Do not young children that do not know how to walk on high stairs."

"When crossing we must walk strait across."

"We are to write a letter about 'No Accident Week.' Why not try to keep the number of people hurt yearly small than before.

"Always wear light clothing when in the evening so you could be seeing."

"Be on the safe side of life."

"The objects in to have as less accidents as possible."

The following interesting facts were gleaned from an essay on milk:

"Grass is made from milk." "A creamery is a place that is full of cheese."

"Creamery rises to the top because it won't stay down." "Skim milk is when its all streen of."

Although the public sale of tickets has not begun there have been enough tickets sold by mail to assure Miss Farrar of a capacity house. She will come to Lawrence direct from New York where she sings at the Hotel Biltmore Friday before. She goes from Lawrence to Worcester and after her concert there goes direct to New York to enter another strenuous opera season.

The girls from Rogers Hall school in Lowell have arranged to attend this concert in a body.

Local interest is great in the coming concert by Geraldine Farrar and her concert company at the Colonial theatre, Lawrence, on the afternoon of Sunday, Nov. 6th. Assisting the great soprano—who is one of the few world wide singers by reputation—is a talented company comprising Ada Sassoli, the harpist, Edgar Schofield, the bass baritone, and Claude Gotthelf, the pianist.

Autos Collide on Reading Road

Automobiles owned by Matilda Owen of 91 Greenwood street, Lawrence, and Newman J. Lawlor of 11 Buckminster street, Boston, were damaged when they collided on the Reading road Friday night. The Owen car, driven by Joseph A. Owen, was ditched on the east side of the road and the machine driven by Lawlor was thrown on the car tracks on the west side of the road. Fortunately the occupants of both machines were uninjured.

According to a report which the local police received, the machine operated by Owen was traveling north on the Reading road in the vicinity of Ballardvale road and the Lawlor car was travelling south when the collision occurred.

Vesper Services to be Held at Free Church

The Free church music committee is again arranging a series of Vesper services which will be held on the first Sunday of each month during the winter.

The first service will be on Sunday afternoon, November 6 at 4 o'clock. At this service the musical program will be furnished by the quartet from the First Congregational church, Malden, with Hayden B. Harris, organist. Mr. Harris and Miss Mary H. Appleton, the soprano in the quartet, gave much pleasure at a Vesper service in the Free church last spring.

The complete program for the series of services will shortly be announced.

Art Department Plans Interesting Program

The art department of the November club opens on Oct. 31, at the club house at 3.30. The season opens at this early date in order to take three trips before cold weather; to leave a large margin for the Christmas holidays, and to finish studying before April.

Attendance at the first meeting is urged as the program will be discussed and new methods suggested. It is hoped that the research carried on heretofore by a small per cent of interested ones will be voluntarily taken up by every member.

The subject is: Basis of design. A simple beginning will be made chiefly with textiles and pottery and house decoration, approaching pictorial composition and mural decoration through the first principles of design. Photographs will be shown, not as the work of one artist or another, but chosen as masterpieces or great pattern pictures of design.

On Nov. 3, the Y. W. C. A. at Lawrence will be visited as an example of home decoration.

Nov. 7, Miss Townsend will show colored fabrics, silk embroideries, tapestries and costumes in the Boston Museum. This will be worth a winter's study. In the afternoon Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald's gallery will be opened for the department.

Nov. 10, Dr. Edward S. Morse of Salem will show the Essex Institute and Peabody Museum where a table for twelve will be set for those carrying lunch, though many many prefer lunching at "the House of Seven Gables."

A flexible winter's program is varied by a talk on the Worcester Museum by Mr. Daniel B. Merriman.

Andover Association Meeting

The fall meeting of the Andover Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers will be held with the Union Congregational church, Ballardvale, Tuesday, Oct. 25, with sessions at 2.45 and 7.00 p. m.

Two important addresses are scheduled. In the afternoon, Rev. William B. Tutill of Lowell will speak on "The Churches and the Conference on Limitations of Armaments." In the evening an address will be given on "The 75th Anniversary of the American Missionary Association." The speaker will be announced later.

William D. Twiss of Lawrence will be moderator and the other officers are Rev. A. H. Fuller, Ballardvale, secretary and treasurer, and Rev. A. G. Lyon, Lowell, statistical secretary. Supper will be served by the ladies of the church at 6 o'clock.

The program:

Instructive Talk on Masonry

There was a large attendance of members of St. Matthew's lodge, A. F. and A. M. at the very successful Smoots Talk held in Masonic hall, Monday evening when an instructive address on Masonry was given by past master George M. R. Holmes. An excellent concert preceded the address.

The program included solos by Joseph Parkinson and Harry Lauder, songs by Henry Fairweather, which were greatly enjoyed. James P. Christie was accompanist.

St. Matthews orchestra under the leadership of Dr. A. E. Hulme, contributed a number of selections and community singing was led by Fred G. Cheney.

Past master Holmes in his address alluded to the early days of operative Masonry, and the formation of Craftsmen's guilds. He spoke at length on modern Masonry and of its beginnings in America with the formation of the first Grand Lodge in Massachusetts under the jurisdiction of England. The Massachusetts grand lodge was the first in America and during the revolution it broke away from England as did the colonies in 1777. Joseph Warren, the great soldier and patriot, killed at Bunker Hill, was master of the grand lodge. Mr. Holmes said that all of Washington's most ardent supporters were Masons, among them Warren, Paul Revere and Otis and that the financing of the Revolution was largely done by Masons.

He spoke of the great growth of the order, particularly in the past five years. The boys overseas recognized the great service done for them while in the army and thousands of them have become members since coming home. The Massachusetts grand lodge has established the order in the Canal Zone, Chili and China and there was hardly a country in South America where Masonry did not exist. He urged the members to live up to the tenets of their profession.

Cigars and cigarettes were passed and refreshments served at the close of a very successful gathering.

Prizes Awarded at K. of C. Carnival

The three-night carnival held last week in the town hall under the auspices of Andover council 1078, K. of C. closed on Friday night. John Traynor auctioneer, disposed of a large number of kewpie dolls at good prices and announced the winners of the articles donated to the council. The winners of the chest of Community silverware donated by Patrick J. Scott, Ballardvale, and the chest of tea, tub of butter and ham, given by Mrs. Mary Adams, will be announced later.

The list of winners:
Ton of coal, Eva Walsh, 202 North Main street.

Five-dollar gold piece, G. H. MacGhie, Ballardvale.

Hundred pounds of sugar, Joseph Hurley, 10 Harding street.

Gillette safety razor, Augustus P. Sullivan, Brechin terrace.

Man's hat, Clarence Eastwood of North Main street.

Pair of lady's shoes, Charles W. Bowman, Park street.

Ten dollars in gold, J. J. Sullivan, 49 Red Spring road.

Three hushels of potatoes, James H. Green, 3 Elm street.

Lady's shirt waist, Mrs. James Goodwin, 68 High street.

Dancing was enjoyed during the evening and excellent music was furnished by Buckley's orchestra.

The committee in charge was: John J. Kelley, Timothy J. Mahoney, Dr. J. J. Daley, John Hurley, Michael Whelan, James P. Welch, Edward Dowdes, John Traynor, John Davis, William C. Crowley, John Harnedy, Edward Eldred, John Pickles, William Tammany, Patrick Colbert, William Ronan, Frank Keefe, Peter Cashan, James Buss and J. P. McCarthy.

MISSIONARY MEETING

Mrs. Carrie Steele Price of Capehonic, Va., brought the audience, in vital touch with the eager colored youth of the Gloucester High and Agricultural School. She and her husband are working to bring high ideals and ambitions to them and to help them grow into good leaders for their people.

They are teaching good farming methods and need more complete equipment to serve their ends—extensive repairs on their barn, for example. The Alliance voted a sum of $25 to be used for this purpose, that the students may have a model to follow on returning home.

Mrs. Price is especially anxious to bring the love of the beautiful into the lives of the boys and girls. They have a violoncello and are learning to know and enjoy the best music. She has been able recently to obtain for them an exhibit of good pictures and is always glad to get pretty prints and colored pictures to put up on the walls for their pleasure. Magazines and books are much in demand, also. (A suggestion for some readers of the Townsman, who may like to pass on something out of their abundance to fill this need.)

Mrs. Price is so genuine and sincere, so full of great hopes for her race that those who heard her will not soon forget her personality or her message.

During the noon hour a lunch consisting of cold tongue, oyster patties, relishes, coffee, rolls and pies was served the women of the church. About one hundred and sat down to the tables spread in the vestry. The members of the committee in charge of the lunch were Mrs. Edgar G. Holt, Mrs. Arthur Bassett and Mrs. H. A. S. Read. The tables were set and decorated by the girls of Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn's class. Those who assisted in the kitchen were Mrs. H. L. White, chairman, Mrs. Chester D. Abbott, Mrs. Horace Hale Smith, Mrs. Harry Wadman, Mrs. Ira Hill and Miss Gertrude White.

The following acted as waitresses: Mrs. J. A. Burt, Mrs. John W. Groat, Misses Irene Franklin, Pearl Rounds, Agatha Wade and Dorothy Wade.

A praise service with Frederic G. Moore as organist opened the afternoon session. Mrs. Moore's generous services at the organ throughout the day contributed greatly to the success of the meeting. Mrs. Moore rendered a solo, "The Lord is My Light."

An exercise entitled "America Calls" presented by thirteen school girls under the direction of Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn showed the great opportunity for Christian work among the members of the various nationalities which are gathered under our flag. Those who took part in the exercise were Abbie Monan, Susan Ripley, Katherine Farlow, Charlotte White, Doris Gates, Emma Daniels, Dorothy Newman, Margaret Moore, Clara Richards, Irene Cole, Helen Pitman, Caroline Dodge and Teresa Proctor.

Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, field secretary of the division of Immigration and Americanization was the speaker of the afternoon and told much that was interesting about "Immigration at the Ports of Entry." The commission for which she works is the great official friend of the immigrant, and while its purposes are not directly educational yet stimulates a desire for education. Although the physical conditions in Boston as a port of entry are far from ideal, Mrs. Gurney said that she had never observed anything but justice and kindness on the part of officials.

The opportunities for service as an "official friend" are numerous and varied and from her own experience Mrs. Gurney told many interesting incidents where a little wise help at a critical moment had not only relieved a difficult situation but aided materially in the Americanization of the prospective citizen. Girls who have come to this country to be married are met at the boat and cared for until wedding ceremonies conforming with their national customs can be arranged. Problems of naturalization papers, the income tax, insurance, methods of sending money, and transportation all come within the scope of the official friend. Through all this work, the sanctity of the human being as an individual, no matter of what race or creed, is borne in mind. Each is a human soul looking for better ideals and it is the constant aim to supply opportunities for education and opportunities to learn what it is to be a good American citizen in order that these ideals may in a measure be realized.

Rev. Charlotte Brown, pastor of a church in the little community of New Boston who was to bring "A Message from the Berkshires" was unable to be present.

Mrs. Edward S. Gould proposed a vote of thanks to the women of the South church who had acted as hostesses and the meeting broke up with a feeling on the part of those present the day had been one of good fellowship and much stimulation of thought in interest in our American problems and opportunities.

Smith & Dove Ladies' Night

The first entertainment of the season by the Smith & Dove Athletic Association was held last Friday evening and was in the form of Ladies' night. The club rooms were tastefully decorated with streamers and shaded lamps. At half past six a bowling game was rolled with the Girls' Club five opposing a picked team from the Association, at the Hillside alley. The men won three to one but apart from this the men treated the ladies very well during the rest of the evening which was spent at the club rooms.

William McDermitt, president of the Association, welcomed the guests and Miss Guern Cook responded for the Girls' Club, after which the company settled down to enjoy a well arranged program. The concert numbers were very well received and included songs by Robert Carrell, John Deyermold, Miss Elizabeth Buss and Miss O. S. Early. Miss Mabel Marshall gave several readings and musical selections were rendered by Charles Murphy and Miss Mary Wintley.

Kirk Auchterlonie gave a fine exhibition of the Sailer's Horripole and his pupils Miss Annette Anderson and Miss Mae Valentine skillfully executed the Highland Fling and the Midnight Dances.

Refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed until midnight, the music being very well played by Murphy's orchestra.

The committee was: Thomas Carter, Bert Means, Robert Campbell, Harry Bland, William Nicoll, R. Anderson and John Manning.

Better Than Cranberries and Milk

Cape Cod blueberries, half an inch in diameter, sound even better than Cape Cod cranberries.—Boston Globe.
It depends somewhat upon the use made of them. As a sauce for the Thanksgiving turkey and the cranberry chicken, blueberries even an inch in diameter would not have an attractive look.—Hillsford Journal.

Correct, but how would they sound—add taste.—In Hillsford p. 1-5.—Kennebec Journal.

CURRENT COMMENT OF THE WEEK

The Treaties Ratified

With only three Republican senators opposed, and with fourteen Democrats in favor, the Senate on Tuesday ratified the peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary by eight more than the requisite two-thirds vote. This was a larger margin than was expected; for when Senator Knox's sudden death occurred, so much apprehension was felt over the possibility that the total affirmative vote might fall short of the necessary number that Gov. Sprout was urged to hasten his selection of a successor, and did so. But it was by the vote of 66 to 20, with nine senators paired—six in favor and three against—that the result was reached. Ineffective attempts were made by a group of Democrats to substitute the Versailles treaty with the Lodge reservations for the German treaty; but nothing came of it. Reservations were adopted at the initiative of the foreign relations committee prohibiting American membership on the allied reparations commission or any other international commission without the consent of Congress.

There could be no more completed severance from the Versailles treaty, and President Wilson's insistence upon the league of nations indissolubly linked with it, than the separate treaties with Germany and Austria accomplish. It would hardly be worth while at this time to discuss the value or lack of value of adjustments which have wholly passed beyond the range of possibility. But, with nearly three years passed since armistice day, it is of the utmost importance that a definite conclusion should be reached without further delay upon a fair peace basis on which to establish friendly relations with the countries formerly at war. That is what these treaties aim at, and what they seek to accomplish with the minimum of friction and delay.—Boston Herald.

Fire Prevention

Good English Week, No Accident Week, Safety First Week; they come and go one after the other, and while they received immense publicity at the time of their happening it is sometimes extremely difficult to discover any lasting effect from their lessons. For a week or a day some particular way in which life and property is endangered is brought to our notice and we heed the maxims and obey the rules for prevention, and the next week or the next day we are buried under a cloud of propaganda of a different color and we forget the cautions of the previous campaign. We are led to ask the worth of such campaigns and we frequently fail to find it.

Fire Prevention Day was observed October tenth and it is pleasing to note that we can find in our own town evidences of the worth of its lessons. The action of the Board of Engineers which has led to a regular inspection by uniformed men of the factories and business buildings of the town with the idea of pointing out fire hazards and suggesting means of preventing or doing away with them is to be highly commended and it is hoped that this action will become a part of the routine work of the department. Too great care cannot be exercised in the prevention of fires in the town and while a well equipped department and a competent force of fire fighters is a great safeguard from fire losses, such work of the department as has arisen directly from the observance of Fire Prevention Day is by far the safest, most economical, and best way of protecting the community from one of its greatest dangers to life and property.

The Real Issue

Hope grows that the country will not be plunged into the disaster of a National railroad strike. Such a calamity may be averted by some sudden move on the part of the men or the executives within the next ten days; but something far more fundamental than any temporary emergency measure must happen before the railroad problem in America is solved.

Working conditions have been laid down within the last ten years which the road managers say they cannot meet and at the same time make profit enough to attract capital to railroad securities. Train service has been so crippled that the public looks upon railroads as only the last resort for transportation. Managers have devised schedules so as to meet the working rules, with the idea of serving the public as only a secondary consideration. Trains have been taken off; stations closed.

Congress has proposed to remove the tax on transportation, which would be one big step in bringing railroad travel back to normal conditions. But, far more important, the men and the managers must agree upon conditions under which the roads can be run efficiently.

No cut in wages of 10 or 12 percent such as the executives suggest, nor any cut in freight rates of a few percent, such as the public group of the Labor Board suggested at President Harding's instance, will solve the railroad problem. Such measures will be only patchwork.—Boston Globe.

Awarded Damages

Damages amounting to $443.34 were assessed by a jury in Superior Civil court Tuesday morning in behalf of Mrs. Mary A. Welch of Andover who brought suit against Frank S. Evans as a result of an automobile collision on the Andover road Nov. 3, 1919. A sealed verdict which the jury returned to Judge Dubuque was opened. The case went to the jury Monday afternoon and a verdict was reached after short deliberation. Liability for the accident was admitted by the defense.

Attorney Joseph L. Burns of Andover represented the plaintiff and Attorney James W. McManus defended.

The $20,000 damage suit of Frank A. Buttrick of Andover, against the Smith and Dove company and the Boston and Maine railroad went to trial Tuesday morning. Buttrick testified he was coming out of the yard of the Smith and Dove company in Andover on November 28, 1919, when his automobile was struck by a freight car. Buttrick claimed he had received no signal announcing the approach of the car before it bore down on him. The automobile in which he was riding was totally destroyed and he was buried in the wreckage.

Attys. J. A. Donovan and J. M. Hargdon represented the plaintiff and Attys. Rockland and Gallant appeared for the defense.

A settlement was reached Thursday morning whereby the plaintiff will receive $3200.

Art Exhibition at November Club House

The exhibition of Mr. Le Boutillier's drawings at the November club house arranged by the art department on Monday afternoon not only afforded an opportunity to see a most interesting collection of sketches and etchings by a local artist but was also a delightful social occasion.

The pictures, thirty-four in number, including sketches made both in France and New England were the center of attention. An interesting and unusual collection of ancient kites and swords was also on view. Unfortunately Mr. Le Boutillier himself was unable to be present.

Mrs. F. P. McLellan for the art department introduced Mrs. Anna Coleman Ladd, the noted sculptor. She spoke of her pleasure in Mr. Le Boutillier's drawings which she found doubly moving because of their beauty of execution and the poignant memories of France which they recalled.

Mrs. Ladd was silent on the subject of her own work, but in reply to questions, told a little of the decoration of the Y. W. C. A. building in Lawrence which with the co-operation of mill girls, society women and artists has been transformed in a spirit of work and play into a place of glowing colors. So successful was the experiment that it attracted attention at the meeting of the General Federation of Arts held in Washington, at the Art Alliance in Philadelphia and inquiries have been received even from California. She also told of the fountain soon to be erected on Boston Common, the inspiration for which came as she saw her own children playing in the surf on the beach. The figures were made in Rome seven years ago and the fountain will probably be placed in position during the coming season.

"Art is not a high-brow or distant thing," said Mrs. Ladd, "but a part of everyday life—a child tumbling about in its own back yard, a beautiful girl combing her hair, sunset on the embankment in Boston, the wonderful tints in our New England landscape, all these are a continual source of joy and excitement to those who feel keenly all the beauty of the world."

She warned her hearers not to be taken in by a great acclaim about the mediocre, but to go about with eyes open for the beautiful and to wage a fight against ugliness whether in the drab colors of our homes, in worthless ornaments, or in anything which tends to deface the beauty of our land which is a magnificent inheritance from the Creator.

Numerous small tables decorated with autumn flowers were arranged at the rear of the hall and tea was served by members of the art department. Mrs. T. Dennis Thomson and Mrs. James R. Fuller poured. Many guests were present from Lawrence and North Andover.

From January to December

The plans for the Legion auxiliary bazaar were completed at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the rooms of Andover post 8, American Legion. Mrs. Fred G. Cheney, chairman of the auxiliary committee, presided, and the committees from the various organizations which will have tables at the bazaar and also the committee from the post were present.

The bazaar will be held in the town hall on Thursday afternoon and evening, November 10. It will be an "All the Year Round" bazaar and the tables will represent each month of the year. A unique table will be in charge of the Andover Mothers' club, Mrs. Carrie S. Buchanan, chairman. The table will be marked "Lest we forget" and all contributions will be free-will offerings for the boys who are still in hospitals or who are sick. Those who have charge of this table hope that the value of the donations received will equal the sum realized from the sale of goods at other tables.

The tables are as follows:
January: Ice cream—Shawsheen lodge, D. of H., Mrs. J. Howard Baker, chairman.

February—Tea room; Lafalel club of West Andover, Mrs. George M. Carter, chairman.

March—Candy; Girls' Friendly society, Christ church; Miss Sarah Hill-ton, chairman.

April—Laundry; Garfield temple, Pythian Sisters; Miss Jean MacDonald, chairman.

May—Novelties; Andover post 8, American Legion, Bartlett H. Hayes, commander.

June—Pies, bread, rolls, Thanksgiving pudding; Baptist church, Mrs. Albert W. Lowe, chairman.

July—Cake, doughnuts, rolls; Free church; Miss Margaret Rogers, chairman.

August—Domestic; Ballardvale; Mrs. Freeman Abbott, chairman.

September—Handkerchiefs; Academy chapel; Mrs. Markham W. Stackpole, chairman.

October—Preserves, pickles; South church; Mrs. Frank M. Foster, chairman.

November—Scottish table; Clan Johnston auxiliary; Mrs. Robert Low, chairman.

December—Fancy articles; St. Augustine's church; Mrs. P. J. Donovan, chairman.

"Lest We Forget" table—Andover Mothers' club.

The Girl Scouts under Mrs. Bartlett H. Hayes will sell peanuts and popcorn and the punch table will be in charge of the Camp Fire Girls, under the direction of Miss Carita Bigelow.

The committee hopes to arrange to have a fortune teller present.

Several organizations which have not been able to assume the responsibility of a table at the bazaar have made cash donations.

MAGEE ONE PIPE FURNACES

"There is no better method of heating a house than by warm air. You might as well try to devise some better means of heating the surface of the earth from April to October than by the rays of the sun. That is an old invention of heating and will never be improved on while the world lasts, nor will any improvement ever be made upon warm air furnished by MAGEE ONE PIPE FURNACES."

The word MAGEE in conjunction with heating apparatus safeguards the intending purchaser. It stands for good material, expert workmanship in construction, and durability, economy, and ease of management in operation.

Weddings

ROGERS-MACGREGOR

A very pretty wedding took place Friday at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Margaret Clark MacGregor, of Pearson street, when her daughter Davina, was united in matrimony to Isaac Rogers of Chatham.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur S. Wheelock of the Free church in the presence of immediate relatives and a few friends.

The bride, who was attended by her sister Margaret MacGregor as bridesmaid, was becomingly gowned in white Duchesse satin, trimmed with Chantilly lace. Her tulle veil was caught up with pearls and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore pink satin and carried Ophelia roses. George Rogers of Chatham, brother of the groom, was best man.

The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls as was also the bride's gift to the bridesmaid. The best man received gold cuff links from the groom. A reception followed the ceremony. The couple received many beautiful wedding gifts from their wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers left immediately after the reception for a wedding trip through the White Mountains and on their return will reside in Chatham, where they will be at home to friends after November.

PATTISON-PALMER

A very pretty home wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer of Wildwood road when their daughter, Sally Miranda, was united in marriage to James Leroy Pattison of 19 West street, Haverhill.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. Victor Bigelow in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few friends of the contracting parties. The bride wore a brown traveling suit with hat to match. She was attended by Miss Blanche Pattison, a sister of the groom, who was gowned in brown georgette. Irvin Pattison of Somerville, a brother of the groom, acted as best man.

As the wedding party entered the living room which was attractively decorated with hydrangeas and dahlias, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mrs. M. M. Converse.

A wedding lunch was served by Caterer Rhodes after which the happy couple left by automobile for a wedding trip. On their return, they will reside in Haverhill.

Reception at the John-Eather Gallery

Miss Bertha Bailey, principal of Abbot academy entertained at a reception given in the John-Eather gallery on Wednesday evening. She was assisted in receiving by Miss Marion Pooke, teacher of painting at the academy, by Miss Katherine R. Kelsey of the faculty and by Mrs. Beatrice Van Ness who taught classes at the academy during Miss Pooke's absence in Europe. Members of the senior class acted as ushers.

The John-Eather gallery although admirably adapted for entertaining, has not been the scene of a large reception since its opening in 1907. Masses of autumn foliage were effectively used as decorations. Refreshments were served.

In addition to the interesting collection of pictures, including five by Miss Pooke, which have been on view all summer, there was also shown a copy of Botticelli's Madonna and Child made by this rising young artist at the Louvre while in Paris this summer. The frame was carved by Miss Pooke in order to give the picture a setting which should correspond with that of the original. So fine is the reproduction that it is said to have been detained for several months in the customs where it was suspected to be an original. Other pictures by Miss Pooke have received a silver medal at the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915 and the Hudson prize given at the seventh annual exhibition of the Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts in 1917.

The paintings of Mrs. Van Ness were also on exhibition. Recent additions to the gallery are four portraits loaned by the family of the late Peter D. Smith: a portrait of Peter D. Smith, two of his father Peter Smith, one being made when he was a young man of twenty, the other when a man of mature years; and portrait of the wife of Peter Smith, Sr.

Baby clothes, children's clothes, boys' suits, shirts, caps, and shoes are to be sold at the Rummage Sale, tomorrow.

OLIVE MOORAR GOLDSMITH

Mrs. Olive Moorar Goldsmith, for many years a resident of Andover, died Saturday, October 15, at the home of her daughter Mrs. Arthur Clark, 13 Cambridge street, Salem.

Mrs. Goldsmith was born in Ipswich, January 11, 1841, and came to Andover when three years of age. She attended the West Center school and later the Punched Free school and Abbot academy in the class of 1856 and the Salem Normal school.

On June 1, 1865 she married Sanford H. Goldsmith whose death occurred about eighteen months ago. After her marriage she made her home at St. Albans, Vermont, in Andover, Boston, and Peabody. For the past two months she has been at the home of her daughter in Salem.

The deceased is survived by a brother, J. Warren Moorar of Andover; a daughter, Mrs. Arthur W. Clark of Salem; and a son, Oswald Goldsmith of Peabody.

Funeral services were held from her late home on Monday afternoon. Interment was in the cemetery at West Parish.

CHARLOTTE HELEN ABBOTT

As far as can be made out, Miss Abbott must have died late Saturday evening, October 15. Earlier, she was about the Square on her customary errands, looking no more frail than for some months. As usual, she carried home her purchases and up two flights of stairs to her room on the top floor of Draper block. Two callers who visited her during the evening saw nothing out of the ordinary.

Sunday morning, another caller, knocking, obtained no answer; and by Monday, her neighbors began to notice her absence. By Monday evening, her friends became alarmed; and two of the group of women who have especially, of late years, looked out for Miss Abbott's welfare, called in the police to force her door. They found everything in order, typewriter ready by the desk, an open book face down on the table, the basket of provisions still unopened. Miss Abbott herself lay fully dressed on the floor of the inner room, as if asleep. She died of heart failure, evidently suddenly and without pain, in the spot which she had made her home for forty years. She had long known that her heart was weak; and she had hoped to die, without lingering disability, precisely as she did.

She was seventy-seven years of age, born in Andover, related to various of the old Andover families, the child of Henry R. Abbott and Lydia Luscomb. Her nearest surviving relatives are two cousins, the Misses Ella and Carrie Foster of this town; a brother, Henry Abbott of Chelsea; a brother-in-law, Edward G. Raymond of Grand Rapids, Michigan; and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Frank Ewing.

Miss Abbott was educated in the town schools, and was a member of the earliest class to graduate from Punched school, that of 1859. The Punched School has never had a more loyal alumna.

For a time she taught in the common schools of Ipswich and Concord, New Hampshire. But teaching proved to be no work for one of so ardent a temperament; and she turned shortly to dressmaking and sewing. In this, she was highly successful. But some twenty years ago, foreseeing that the manufacture of woman's clothing ready-made would finally spoil her market, she turned for a livelihood to what had already become her favorite avocation, and became a professional genealogist.

Her special field was the colonial families of Essex County, and she did a great amount of valuable research for members of these families, now removed to all parts of the United States.

Her special hobby, however, was the history and antiquities of the town itself. As an investigator she had unlimited patience, uncommon sagacity, and a memory that was little short of marvelous. As a result, she came to know the happenings of Colonial times as other women know the gossip of last week. She carried on the tip of her tongue, every birth and death in prerevolutionary Andover, every transfer of property, every alteration made to every dwelling. She knew who fought in every Indian skirmish, who was killed, and who his widow married next. The long-gone grists mills and saw mills and powder mills were as real to her as if she saw them with her bodily eyes. As she talked of the old times, the listener had to keep reminding himself, that, after all, she did not really see the Andover company march off for Concord fight or the body of the early settler brought in from his mowing field after his little brother put onion seed in his powder horn!

But though concerned professionally with genealogies and ancient records, and a member of the Andover Historical Society, Miss Abbott's interests were by no means limited to her special field. She was a devoted gardener, and keen lover of wild nature. From the foundation of the Andover Natural History Society, she was one of its leading members. Even after she had passed three score and ten, she still joined the younger people on their walks; and if she sometimes fell behind the procession, it was less from infirmity than because her sharp eyes detected interesting things which others had passed over.

Here, as in her chosen field, her mental store of fact was enormous and always at command. Her interest covered the entire subject, but chiefly the plants and the rocks. She was the most enthusiastic geologist of the Society; and she will long be associated in the minds of her fellow members with her discovery, between Great Meadow and Prospect Hill, of a little patch of rock, older than the granites which for the most part form the region hereabouts, and known since then as "Miss Abbott's outcrop."

Unfortunately, she was never able to afford the books which would have helped her to go as far as she wished, with any of her varied interests. In default of these, she clipped voluminously from many newspapers, especially from the Boston Transcript. In time, her files became a town institution. Many a harassed essayist, all at sea for material, has appealed to Miss Abbott and forthwith been handed an ancient pasteboard box with more information in it than ten articles could exhaust!

Miss Abbott had, besides, uncommon literary gifts. She wrote largely on her special field for the Boston Transcript, The Portland Argus, and for other publications. To the Townsman during more than a quarter century, she contributed from time to time, articles on the old Andover families. But for the distraction of the war, this highly valuable material would doubtless have become a book.

In addition, Miss Abbott wrote for the Townsman on all sorts of topics. For there seemed to be no subject under heaven on which she did not have highly original and most entertaining views. These, she set forth in print with so much vigor and with so much native wit, that anything in the Townsman signed "C. H. A." has commonly been the cleverest thing in its issue, and nearly always the best written.

Her last contribution to these columns is still only a week old—her obituary of her cousin, George C. Foster. Now, in its turn, we are printing hers. She was a quaint and pathetic figure about the square, in her outworn garments and faded shawl. But she was also a gifted woman; and she was a brave soul, who fought out unwaveringly a long battle with poverty and ill health.

By faith, she was a Swedenborgian; and her last visit to Boston, some three years ago, was to attend a special service of her church. For the most part, here in town, she attended the Old South, where, in their youth, she and her classmates, the late Mrs. Ezra Valpey, sang in the choir.

On Thursday afternoon at five o'clock the parlor of the South church was well filled with old friends gathered to attend the funeral services conducted by the Rev. Markham W. Stackpole, who also read prayers at the grave.

The bearers were a nephew, William F. Abbott of Chelsea; John Houghton Flint and Fred L. Winkley of Andover; Louis T. Howard of Boston; and Arthur Holt of Lawrence.

After a day of dark clouds and heavy showers alternating with sunshine, just as the friends gathered about Miss Abbott's last resting place, the clouds again parted and the brilliant shafts of the setting sun for a few brief moments threw the play of their slanting rays across the Old South churchyard which she knew so well and which had for so many years been the object of her loving care.

Miss Charlotte Helen Abbott had the fire of patriotism burning in her heart.

She was a charter member of Gen. William F. Bartlett Relief Corp. which was organized thirty-one years ago in the old G. A. R. Hall over Smith & Manning's store on Essex street, April 22, 1890.

It was her privilege to decorate the Soldiers' Tablet of our departed heroes at the Memorial Hall and she always went very early Memorial morning to the hall to perform that task, and gathered with her own loving hands the choice wild flowers and other decorations for that purpose. Who will take her place? Her heart was very tender towards the old veterans. She could not attend the services in the town hall on that day because she could not bear to see the ranks growing so thin year by year.

She thought and prayed for our soldier boys all the time they were in the service, and secured the papers diligently every day for news concerning them. At the time of Our Welcome Home celebration, she marched afoot and alone at the rear of the procession, carrying her flag.

She knew every inch of the ground around the Historical Boulder in the Old South church cemetery; knew the names and the families of all those that are buried there. She had it for her special charge and planted all the choice old-fashioned flowers and clinging vines around those rocks.

Salvation Army Makes Appeal Next Week

The annual home-service appeal by the Salvation Army for funds to be used for the extension of charitable relief and institutional activities will be made in Andover next week.

The American Legion is back of this appeal but the following committee has been chosen headed by Bartlett H. Hayes, chairman; Chester Holland, treasurer; Rev. Arthur S. Wheelock, John C. Angus, George A. Christie, Mrs. F. G. Cheney and Rev. M. N. Stackpole and Frederic H. Jones.

Charles E. Daly, eastern territorial representative of the Salvation Army has been in town for the past week organizing and perfecting plans for the drive which is to be started on Monday.

A meeting of the Salvation Army Home Service committee will be held at the Legion rooms Saturday evening at eight o'clock and will be presided over by Bartlett H. Hayes. It is hoped that every member will make an effort to attend.

Cotter's Saturday Night

The "Cotter's Saturday Night," adapted from Burns' poem, will be presented by the Scottish Musical Comedy Co. of Boston in the town hall tonight, under the auspices of Clan Johnston.

Study Common Rocks

The Andover Natural History society held a well-attended meeting Tuesday evening in the Pumphrey lecture room with Omar P. Chase presiding. Minutes of two regular meetings, one on ferns and the other on vacation experiences held respectively in June and September as well as the field meetings at Great Meadow, Den Rock and Skug river, were read by the secretary, Mrs. Frank M. Foster.

The president spoke of the loss which the society had sustained in the death of Miss Charlotte Helen Abbott and the executive committee was instructed to draw up suitable resolutions.
Mrs. Edwin T. Brewster gave an account of the ferns which she had seen at the exhibition held at Horticultural hall, Boston, by the Boston Natural History society which is said to be the finest thing of its kind ever held in Boston if not in the country. She described many beautiful and interesting specimens mentioning among others the hundred varieties of the Boston fern, and many exquisite varieties of maidenhair. Mrs. George J. Cummings pictured the magnificent display of orchids, arranged with the ferns as a background, interesting not only for their beauty of form and color but also for their rarity.

The special subject for the evening was "Common rocks" and Prof. George J. Cummings, who has made a study of rock formations in various parts of the country spoke of the varieties which he had observed during his residence not only in Massachusetts but in New Hampshire and Florida.
Edwin T. Brewster, who had charge of the evening's program, showed specimens of igneous, metamorphic and stratified rocks which occur commonly in this vicinity, explaining briefly their formation. His talk was further illustrated by lantern slides.
At the close of the meeting an opportunity was given those present to examine under the microscope specimens of sand gathered at Daytona Beach, Florida and at New Found lake, N. H.

Baptist X. B. K. Entertained

The T. K. chapter of the X. B. K. fraternity of the Baptist church was very pleasantly entertained by the ladies of the church last Friday night in the vestry, when a bountiful supper was served at 6.30. Clifford Dannels was toastmaster and the menu for which the Baptist church ladies are noted, was thoroughly relished.

Following the supper a business session was held and the officers elected were: Ralph Morrison, president; Winslow Dannels, vice president; Charles Hudson, secretary; Selden Billington, treasurer; Clifford Dannels, instructor. Chairmen of committees appointed by the president were: Social, Carl Wetterberg; basketball, Howard Dannels; bowling, Kenneth Wade; music, Selden Billington; publicity, Walter Saunders.

The members listened to a fine address on the work of the fraternity by Donald Moore of Methuen and Rev. A. J. Hutchins, pastor. Percy F. Gilbert entertained, and community singing was enjoyed with Miss Jennie Wetterberg at the piano.

Free Church Notes

The Grenfell Chapter, X. B. K. held its second communication in the Free church parish house and initiation of several candidates took place. Those who were admitted were Benjamin Brown, Francis Perot, William Scott, William Dobbie, Henry Otis and Herbert Otis.

The Grenfell chapter is making rapid strides and has planned a busy season. A Halloween party is on the program for Tuesday evening, Nov. 1.

The program for the year is as follows:
Nov. 1—Halloween Party.
Nov. 15—Initiation.
Dec. 6—Open.
Dec. 20—Election of officers and initiation.
Jan. 3—Installation of officers and annual banquet.

The members have built a volleyball court on the grounds at the rear of the church and several interesting games have already been played. The basketball team will again enter the X. B. K. league. The committee in charge is Geoffrey Nicoll, chairman; James Morton and John Caldwell.

The officers of the chapter are Alfred Harris, president; James Cuthill, vice president; Russell Carter, treasurer; Geoffrey Nicoll, secretary; John Caldwell, tyler; J. Nicoll, chaplain.

On next Sunday at noon the Men's Discussion Class will continue the interesting discussion begun last week on the question of disarmament. The approaching conference on the limitation of armaments makes this question of peculiar interest and it is well for citizens to be informed on the purpose and possibilities of this international gathering. At its next meeting the Men's discussion class will approach the subject from the angle of "Big armaments and the cause for them."

Trap Shoot Held on Holiday

A trap shoot under the auspices of the fish and game club was held Columbus day at two o'clock on Todd's field, Shawheen village. Twenty-six entered for the prizes and 650 shells were shot.
The first prize, a duck's-back hunting coat, was won by George Bartlett with a score of 21 out of a possible 25. B. Frank Hatch and Jessa Billington tied for second place, each having a score of 20. Mr. Hatch gave way to Mr. Billington who received a leather shell case. Raymond Buchan, Alfred Hall, William Foster and Charles Newton, each scored 19. A coin was tossed to decide the prize winner, and the box of shells was awarded to Raymond L. Buchan.

Men's Evening Class Started

An evening class for men in elementary applied arithmetic meets on Monday evenings at Pumphrey school under the direction of the division of university extension of the state department of education. Thirty men from the Smith and Dove Mfg. Co. have enrolled to take the course.

The instruction will be given by Carl M. Gahan, supervisor of manual training and drawing. It is expected if interest is maintained to take up courses in shop mechanics and higher mechanics.

The class is not limited to Smith and Dove men and if other men in town are interested in sufficient numbers Mr. Gahan will form another class.

The movement was started by Joseph Connolly and Joseph McCarthy of the Smith and Dove Co., assisted by Charles E. Fouhy, employment manager, who made the arrangements for the class with Henry C. Sanborn, superintendent of schools.

Licenses Suspended and Revoked

Henry F. Dearborn, of 193 Garden street, Lawrence, is found to have been at fault in an automobile accident which occurred on August 9, resulting in the death of Margaret McKee of Lawrence, and his license, which was suspended pending investigation into the affair, is now revoked by Frank A. Goodwin, State registrar of motor vehicles.

Gladys V. Basham, of 12 Florence street, Andover, has been notified of the suspension of her license for 15 days. According to the state register, she operated an automobile in an improper manner on the Andover road on October 2.

Requiem Masses for Fr. Fogarty

Two anniversary masses of requiem were solemnized Tuesday morning in St. Augustine's church for the late Rev. Daniel P. Fogarty, O. S. A., who died October 18, 1918.

A solemn high requiem mass was offered at 8 o'clock with Rev. Fr. Thomas P. Fogarty, O. S. A., brother of the deceased as celebrant, assisted by Fr. P. J. Campbell as deacon and Rev. Fr. J. A. Nugent as sub-deacon. A requiem mass was solemnized at 7 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Nugent.

The church was well filled at both masses and the solemn high mass was attended by the Sisters of Notre Dame and children of the parochial school.

SELF-RELIANCE GOES BANKRUPT

Thin Blood Saps Energy.
Gude's Pepto-Mangan Rebuilds the Blood

Wrestling with a weakened condition of the blood is a desperate struggle. Thin, watery blood deprives the body of energy and causes a played-out feeling not unlike utter exhaustion. A man with weak blood has not the full use of his powers. He lacks decision, and vacillates until he loses self-confidence.

Some men, and women too, go faltering along for months scarcely realizing that they need Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the blood-builder. But when they have taken it for a while, what a difference there is in the feelings! The old-time vigor and the red-blooded hue of good health return. The new rich blood gets to work, building, fortifying, lifting the spirit up to its normal standard. Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for years as a blood-builder. Druggists sell it in liquid and tablet form. Look for the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package. Advertisement.

Wedding

HOGAN-TARDIFF

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning at 7:00 o'clock in the Sacred Heart church in South Lawrence, when Miss Hermine Tardiff of Balmoral street was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to George Hogan of North Andover.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives and invited guests by the Reverend J. C. Ducloux.

The bride was charmingly attired in a blue tricotine suit with blue velvet hat to match and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Marie Hogan, as bridesmaid, who wore a blue tricotine suit and carried roses. Alphonse Bergeron, of the Village, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride to the immediate relatives, after which the couple left for a short wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan will reside in the Village, on their return.

To Move Houses

Two houses on Haverhill street opposite the Shawsheen Mills will be moved to one of the new streets that is being cut through the Poor Farm property. The families residing in these houses will move elsewhere in the Village.

Charles Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Lassig will move to House D on Argyle street; Bert George and family will move to House E on the same street. The Davies family will move into House Lot No. 1 in the new settlement on Stirling street.

Atlantics of Lawrence to Play Shawsheen Team Saturday

The Shawsheen Village football team, after a rather disastrous defeat against the Seminoles of Haverhill last Sunday afternoon, will attempt a come-back against the Atlantics of Lawrence tomorrow afternoon on the Balmoral playing fields. The lineup of the team is changed completely from the team which played Sunday and Manager Traynor hopes to make a successful showing against the visitors. The game will be called at 2:30 P. M.

The lineup for Shawsheen follows: re. Peiper, rt. Ryan, rg. McCarthy, c. Soutar, lg. Bergeron, lt. Broadhurst, lb. Burns, qb. Miller, lb. Tetreau, rrb. Stearns, fb. Taylor.

HOME TEAM WINS 3 TO 0

Small Crowd Sees American Woolen Team Completely Outplay Arlington in First Round of National Cup Series

Despite the excellent weather conditions Saturday, only a small crowd turned out for the first round game of the National Cup series between American Woolen and Arlington Mills soccer teams at Methuen. Such a game usually brings a good gathering of soccer fans, but the showing of the Arlington team two weeks ago evidently proved it so clearly inferior to the Wool lads that the game had little attraction for the fans. Butler, Ormerod and Dundas starred for the American Woolen team and Kelley played a remarkable game for the losers, placing well and rushing into the game in a fearless manner.

The "Rams" scored their first point on a weak kickoff, Gilmartin beating out two opponents for the ball and placing it for Dundas who scored to the far corner of the net without giving the goalie even a chance for it. Throughout the half the game stayed pretty much in the Arlington end of the field, an occasional rush bringing the ball down the field but never in a threatening manner. Hurrell had an easy time of it. Towards the end of the half American Woolen again had a chance to score and took it. From a free kick for some slight penalty, Arlington shot out to Ormerod who drew the opposition before he passed to Gilmartin. The winger worked into the goal, sent in a drive to Ball which the latter could not hold and Ormerod was there to score it when it bounced out.

The second half was very much a repetition of the first with the Arlington team playing a considerably improved defensive game but with the ball still held in the Arlington side save for an occasional burst. Hurrell had two good saves to his credit. Ormerod worked in for the third goal with a straight rush down the field and a drive that sent Ball to his knees and found the corner of the net.

The American Woolen team again plays the Arlington team in Methuen tomorrow in a league game.

Runaway Monday Night

Traffic on North Main street, Shawsheen Village was at a standstill for a time Monday night shortly after five o'clock when a pair of horses attached to a dumpcart owned by J. F. McDonough, a contractor was struck by an automobile which was driven by Arthur H. Tuttle. The driver was thrown to the ground and the horses started on a mad run up the street. William Sutcliffe managed to jump into the cart and brought the horses to a standstill at Harding street. No one was injured.

Points on Colors

Yellow is the color of sunlight and of almost all fires. From these associations it takes on a cheerful aspect. It gives the impression of warmth.

WOMAN'S CLUB ORGANIZED

Officers for Current Year Elected Last Tuesday Evening and General Plans Formulated for Year's Program

The Shawsheen Village Woman's Club completed their organization last Tuesday evening in Balmoral Hall with the election of the officers and standing committees for the current year. At a preliminary meeting two weeks ago the idea was generally discussed and nominations were made for the officers of the club. Last Tuesday general plans were drawn up for the program for the coming year. The program will be educational in its nature, dealing with civics, music and literature, and while a great part of the meetings will be conducted by the members of the club, it is planned to secure speakers from out of town several times through the year.

It was voted to hold the regular meetings on the first Tuesday of every month, but the club decided to hold several meetings at intervals of two weeks in order to clear up the necessary business caused at the time of formation. In addition to the election of the officers and the governing board, the President appointed a Constitution committee which will prepare and submit to the members a constitution for the club, a Program committee which will have charge of the educational program of the club, and an Entertainment committee which will aid in furnishing entertainment at the regular meetings and will at various times throughout the year, have charge of any special entertainments of the club. These committees follow: Constitution committee; Mrs. Holt, chairman, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Gahm; Program committee; Mrs. Little, chairman, Mrs. Green, Miss Holt; Entertainment committee; Mrs. Martin, chairman, Mrs. A. Mayo, Miss Fredrickson. Mrs. H. L. Green was appointed head of the Civics department, Miss E. M. Smith of the Music department, and Mrs. Garrison Holt of the Literature department.

The results of the election of officers follow:
President, Mrs. Donald Carter, Vice-President, Mrs. Arthur Morrison, Treasurer, Mrs. Phillip Moor, Recording secretary, Mrs. Horace Wood, Corresponding secretary, Miss Edith Donald. These officers with Mrs. George M. Wallace and Mrs. George Murray form the Executive Board of the club.

The club will hold its next meeting on November first, at which time it is requested that all women in the Village who are desirous of joining the club will give their names to some one of the officers.

Shawsheen's White Way Opened

Shawsheen's white way, from Stimson's bridge to the center was turned on for the first time last Wednesday evening. Over two years ago, William M. Wood in connection with his plans for the development of the Village, installed a series of lights with ornamental standards, installed the underground wiring necessary, and at the town meeting in 1920 obtained the permission of the town to turn over the lights to the Lighting committee, who were at that time given full powers. After a number of delays the "White Way" is now an accomplished fact.

There are twenty lights of 250 candlepower and six lights of 60 candlepower. Previous to this added illumination, the stretch from the bridge to the center was one of the worst lighted parts of Main street and the new illumination should tend greatly to make this section safer for automobile traffic at night.

Shawsheen Village Loses at Haverhill

Two thousand spectators witnessed the football game between Shawsheen Village and the Seminoles of Haverhill at Swasey's field last Sunday afternoon. The game was a decisive victory for the Haverhill team, the score being 24 to 0. Francis Cummings, a former Haverhill High School football star recovered a fumble and ran 50 yards for a touchdown.

Cummings also threw two perfect forwards to Timmons for gains of 25 yards. The other scores for Haverhill were made by Taffe, McCarthy and Phil Cronin. No goals were kicked.

From the very beginning the Seminoles had the lead and the Shawsheen Village team at no time proved threatening.

A collection was taken up for Pete McGrath amounting to $176. Pete is a teammate of the winners and was injured in the game with Pere Marquette Council K. of C. recently.

Attend American Woolen Company Outing

A number of the boys and girls of Shawsheen Village attended the fall outing of the children at the Boxford Camp of the American Woolen Company at West Boxford. The outing took place last Sunday and the trip was made by auto.

No set program was followed out but the children were allowed to run around and play and enjoyed themselves immensely. Lunch was served at noon and the children arrived home about three o'clock.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

other business called for in the warrant on a succeeding day without the necessity of making an adjournment.

The acceptance of the provisions of Section 20, Chapter 39 of the General Laws relative to precinct voting and the holding of the annual town meeting will simplify the procedure.

Section 20, Chapter 39 is as follows: Section 20.—Towns divided into voting precincts may, for their annual town election, establish precinct voting for all town officers to be chosen thereat and for voting on the question of granting licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors by accepting this section at a meeting held fourteen days at least before the annual town meeting. The acceptance of this section or corresponding provisions of earlier laws may be revoked by the town at a meeting held thirty days at least before the annual town meeting; and if so revoked this section shall cease to be in force therein.

In towns in which this section or corresponding provisions of earlier laws are in force, all matters to be considered at the annual town meeting, other than the election of town officers, and the question of granting licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors, shall be in order only at a town meeting held within thirty days after the date of the annual election, and not later than April thirtieth. The time and place of holding such subsequent meeting shall be stated in the warrant for the annual election, and said election, subsequent meeting and its adjournments shall be regarded as parts of the annual town meeting.

The election of a moderator, except in towns where moderators are elected for a term of one year, shall be the first business in order at said subsequent meeting. Towns by vote or by-law may authorize voting by precincts at special elections of town officers.

Winter Waiting Station Under Construction

Work was started Wednesday afternoon on a waiting station for the use of Villagers at the Haverhill street stop of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. The waiting room will be an octagonal structure about ten feet high and eight feet across with a dome shaped top, and will probably be heated in cold weather. It is glassed in from a height of three feet and should prove a great convenience and an added comfort to the Villagers through the cold and wet weather.

She Despised Them

A little Brookline girl of seven heartily disliked having to practice on the piano and one day she grumbled about it to a neighbor.

"Why, Mary, don't you like your music?" the neighbor asked.
"No, said the child vehemently, 'I just 'spise those little black things 't'in' on the fence."
